

SAINT LUCIA: ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT

Retained by the Government of Saint Lucia (Department of Environment and Planning) to provide an Environmental Management Course. The course was presented to senior government staff and private industry managers. Course included training in all elements of the ISO 14000 EMS requirements, breakout sessions on aspect/impact identification, review of current and proposed legislation, guidelines and best management practices applicable to the Caribbean islands including the requirements of:

MARPOL: Annex I (oily waste); Annex II (noxious liquids), Annex IV (sewage), Annex V (special area); Basel Convention; Cartagena Convention; and Acts and Regulations such as Fisheries Act (1984) and Regulations (1994); Forest, Soil and Water Conservation Ordinance (1946); Beach Protection Act 1967 and Beach Protection (amendment) Act 1984; Land Development (interim) Control Act (1971); Oil in Navigable Water Act (1991); National Conservation Act 1999; Crown Land Ordinance (1946); Public Health Act (1975); Pesticides Control Act (1975); Solid Waste Management Authority Act (1996); The Maritime Areas Act (1999); Water and Sewage Act (1999); Wildlife Conservation Act (1980)

Client: Government Saint Lucia.